

Dear prospective Macro Strategic Planning® Course attendee,

Reaching the end of your life and feeling much more regret than satisfaction is a tragedy; wouldn't you agree?

If you're completely confident that what you are doing now will get you to where you want to be 5, 10, 25 years from now and at the end of your life, read no further.

If however you have doubts, attending Bruce Wright's Macro Strategic Planning® course will vastly increase your chances of giving your life a happy ending.

I have attended three of his programs. The first as an attendee, the second as someone asking questions and adding comments and the third one several months ago in Vail as a frequent presenter. I am thrilled to be attending Boston and look forward to participating even more.

I'm a born skeptic and don't like to waste my time or money on programs that promise more than they deliver.

The Macro Strategic Planning® and Irresistible Magnetic Marketing courses won me over. I am irresistibly attracted to programs that make sense, feel right, are doable and that are airtight and bulletproof. I find these courses to possess all these qualities.

What really convinced me is this; I have had a few accomplishments in my life that far exceeded my expectations. I have sought for years to figure out how to cause them to happen more frequently, but never found an explanation or a road map. Bruce's course in Macro Strategic Planning® IS the road map. I have since applied what I have learned from it and my life has quite literally taken off.

I am a medical doctor by training and still maintain a clinical practice. I am always looking for ways to improve the lives of my patients and try to protect my patients trying treatments that will just be a waste of their precious time and money.

If Bruce's approaches were a medical treatment I would recommend them to my patients without hesitation. In fact if some of my patients had followed the principles and path that he lays out, they never would have become so depressed or anxious that they would need to see me.

Hoping to see you at an Macro Strategic Planning® course soon.

All the best,

Mark Goulston, M.D.
